

WATERBURY

T. F. Harvey Had Unsatisfactory Relations with Automobiles Recently.

T. F. Harvey, who lives on the Moody farm in Duxbury, hasn't any special fondness for automobiles at the present writing. Sunday, while standing in front of Mark Moody's, Dr. Hopkins' car hit the milk cart and a general spill occurred. The horse has been lamed up since, but Mr. Harvey was out of the cart and was unhurt. Yesterday while Gardner McNulty was carrying him to the train, just as he was going out of the covered bridge toward Waterbury, by the Craig shore, a Dodge runabout driven by Gordon Wells of Burlington, came at a rapid speed and although Mr. Harvey was as far outside as possible crashed into the wagon, giving it a general smash-up. Both occupants were thrown and both somewhat injured but Mr. Harvey struck upon his head and after going to the doctor's was glad to remain in bed the rest of the afternoon. Mr. Harvey claims he held up his hand and did all possible to stop the crash. Mr. Wells, on the other hand, says he could not see the team, the same excuse that was given by the driver who hit the grocery team of F. C. Lamb driven by W. N. Gilbert a few weeks ago in almost the same place. Several minor accidents have occurred here and it is much to be feared that something of a more serious nature will occur.

The sad news of the drowning of Joseph A. Rushlow, the 12-year-old son of Alfred and Jessie DeForge Rushlow, came as a shocking news. The lowness of the water everywhere made drowning seem impossible but in bathing with some other boys, none of whom could swim, he was overcome. The other boys ran for help. Harry Gray, jumping on his wheel, rushed to the scene and although he could not save him, waded in and rescued the body but he was exhausted. Dr. H. D. Hopkins was soon on the scene and all means for life were used without avail. Beside his father and mother, he is survived by five brothers and sisters and a grandmother.

Advices Ordinary Buttermilk for Wrinkles and Enlarged Pores

This Good Looking Young Woman Advises: Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage With Fingers Before Retiring All That Is Necessary

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

No matter whether you are troubled with wrinkles, hard little lines around the mouth and eyes, coarse, sallow, faded looking skin, or simply roughness and redness caused by wind and sun, you will find that all these trials quickly disappear with the use of this old-fashioned beauty recipe brought up to date.

Beautiful actress says: "A short message with Howard's Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."—Adv.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

Meeting of the Vermont State Fair Association Committees.

On account of the absence of several members of the executive committee of the Vermont State Fair association, it was impossible to hold the executive session scheduled for yesterday afternoon.

A meeting of the several committees of the association was held, however. Plans were discussed for the use of the state fair railroad during the fair. Other committees made reports on other branches of state fair work. Those present at the meeting were Gov. Clement, Pres. J. E. Estee, Sec. F. L. Davis, Auditor Benjamin Gates, W. E. Davis and George P. Mann.

A meeting of the public service commission was held in the parlors of the Junction house at White River Junction Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The object of the meeting was to try to ascertain the cause of the railroad wreck on the Central Vermont railroad which occurred between South Royalton and Bethel early in June of the present year.

Those who represented the Central Vermont railway at the hearing were P. E. Fitzpatrick, chief engineer; Stanley Russell, claim agent, and Mr. McFeters, lawyer for the Central Vermont railroad. State's Attorney Moore represented the state. The members of the train crew on duty at the time of the accident were examined. The public service commission will render a verdict later.

This is Your Harvest Time, Mr. Dairy Farmer

Now, when the price is highest, is the time to sell your butter fat. Sell all you can, for every drop represents real money, perhaps more than it ever will again.

This Is No Time to Use a Worn Out or Defective Cream Separator

Losses of even a few drops of cream a day count up to big losses in a few months. If your separator has been in use a long time, or for any other reason fails to skim clean, it may cost you more to continue using it than you would have to pay for a new Lily separator.

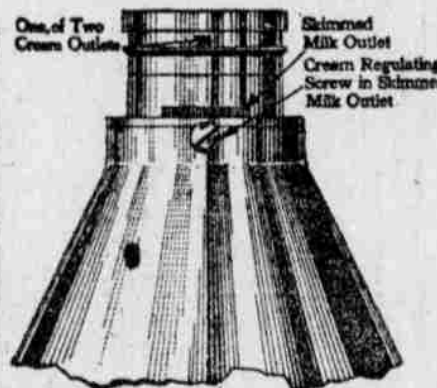

Every dairy farmer knows that if he skims dense cream it means smaller bulk to handle and haul to market.

In the Lily the screw for regulating the density of the cream is in the skim-milk outlet—not in the cream outlet, as in most separators, where it obstructs the full flow of cream.

With the cream screw in the skim-milk outlet, there is nothing to prevent all the cream flowing out of the cream outlets. It is the amount of skim-milk in the cream that makes it thin or dense. To get dense cream from a Lily you screw the adjusting screw out and let all the skim-milk flow out freely. When the thinner cream is wanted, the screw is turned in so that a thin edge of skim-milk is forced into the cream, but whether thin or dense cream is being skimmed, you get all the butter fat. There can be no loss, because there is nothing to obstruct the free flow of cream out of the bowl.

The Lily bowl has two cream outlets instead of one. This is to prevent the cream being crowded in flowing out and to overcome the possibility of fat globules being broken up.

Come in and let us show you the other features of the Lily, or call us up and we will bring a machine out and show it to you.
